

CHASING
COVID
COHORT

March 3, 2022

Standard Follow-up Survey

Consent to Continue

Thank you so much for your participation in the CHASING COVID Cohort study thus far. We are continuing follow-up of participants in the cohort during 2022. Although the pandemic has lasted longer than expected when we initially planned this study, your ongoing participation has been particularly important and has provided valuable information for understanding the impact of COVID-19 across the U.S.. Indeed, thanks to your participation, the CHASING COVID Cohort is the only longitudinal community-based study that has documented the full impact of the pandemic across various aspects of daily life, and it will serve as an important historical resource.

Today, you will be invited to participate in one round of specimen collection for antibody testing and a survey. You will receive a $20 Amazon gift card for completing the survey. Similar to previous antibody testing, once the lab receives your returned kit, you will receive an additional $30 Amazon gift card. In 2022, you will be invited to participate in at least 1 more survey.

To date, the CHASING COVID Cohort study has been supported by the CUNY ISPH and an NIH grant. In 2022, Pfizer will also be providing financial support for the study. However, just like before, your individual data and specimens will never be shared with anyone outside the CUNY study team. If you have questions, please contact us at covid@sph.cuny.edu.

Introduction

Thanks for taking time to complete the follow-up survey for the CHASING COVID Cohort study. This should take 15-20 minutes of your time. When you finish the survey, you'll be directed to resources with accurate and up-to-date information about the new coronavirus. You will receive $20 for completing the survey.

Antibody specimen collection

If no specimen consent on file (V1 or V4): As part of our research on the SARS-CoV-2 pandemic, the CHASING COVID Cohort Study is providing another free SARS-CoV-2 antibody test to all participants, using at-home, self-collected specimens. You may learn that you had COVID in the past (if you didn't already know) and if so, whether you still have antibodies. Results should be available within 3-5 business days after your sample is received by our lab.

- 3) Would you like to submit a specimen for antibody testing?
- a) Yes
- b) No
- c) Don't know/not sure

Informed Consent for CHASING COVID Cohort Study

We have updated the CHASING COVID Cohort (C3) consent form to include information about coronavirus antibody testing, and incentives you will receive for participation. We remain committed to protecting your privacy and your voluntary participation in C3.

Purpose of the study: The purpose of the study is the same as before. The study is focused on the new coronavirus, COVID19, particularly health messaging, behaviors, healthcare access and interventions. With the new information we hope to gather through antibody testing, we will be able to learn about the number of people who have been infected with coronavirus and the number of people who were infected but never had symptoms. Just a note: an antibody test will measure if you have been exposed to the coronavirus in the past. It will not tell you if you are actively infected.

What happens today: If you are interested in being tested for COVID19 antibodies, you will need to provide us with your contact information, mailing address and date of birth, so our lab can mail you a specimen collection kit. Our lab requires a date of birth to complete the testing. After the lab receives your returned specimen, we will email you another Amazon gift card for $30. Amazon will not know you were a participant in this study or what your responses were.

What will happen after today (Follow-up surveys): You will receive a follow-up survey in the summer. In the interim, we may periodically reach out to invite you to participate in short surveys with only a few questions or any other studies you may be eligible for.

Version V10.0 | March 3, 2022

Antibody testing: If you want to take the COVID19 antibody test, a specimen collection kit will arrive in the mail in a few days. We are not sending you the antibody test, we are sending you a kit that will collect your specimen, which will be sent to our lab. You will prick your finger and press your finger on a special piece of paper and you will then mail this piece of paper to our laboratory partners who will be doing the antibody testing. The specimen collection kit will be in a plain envelope and there will be no labeling that mentions this study. The kit will include instructions on how to collect the specimen, package it, and send it using the prepaid mailing envelope. There will be no cost to you for shipping your specimen back to us.

Once the lab receives your specimen, we will email you a $30 Amazon gift card. The results of your test will be provided to our team using a secure data transfer that does not include your name or any information about you other than your study ID number and the results. We will email you the results of your test within 48-72 hours after we get them from the lab.

After testing for COVID19 antibodies, we will continue to store your sample in case we need to conduct any additional tests as part of this study. You may choose to have your sample discarded at any time and it will not affect your participation in this study.

Your participation is voluntary: As a reminder, your participation in all aspects of the C3 study is voluntary. You can skip any survey or stop at any time, and there is no penalty. If you want to stop during a survey, just close the browser window.

Your privacy is important: Your contact information will always be kept separate from your survey responses, and all of your answers will be kept confidential. Our lab will have your contact information, but that information will be stored separately from your test results and the lab has very strict procedures for how the information is stored.

Risks/benefits: The specimen collection involves a finger prick. There is a slight risk of developing an infection at the site where you prick your finger, but you will be told how to minimize the risk of infection and the specimen collection equipment is sterile. It also might be slightly painful, but that usually goes away quickly. Answering questions about personal topics or health behaviors, COVID19 symptoms, or healthcare access may make you feel upset or uncomfortable.

There are no direct benefits to you; however, you may enjoy participating in a health research study. As a participant in this study, you will receive free antibody testing.

What else do you need to know?: A reminder that taking part in this study is voluntary. You may stop taking part in this study at any time. Contact information you provide may be kept for up to 3 years after the study concludes, unless you request it to be removed from the database. During this time, we may reach out to you about opportunities to participate in other research studies. If you have questions, please call us at 917-740-8714 or email covid@sph.cuny.edu. If you have questions about
